

"Watching Crystal captivate an attentive audience for a full three hours, I was amazed by her diverse talents. She could step right into a weekly national TV variety show, in the style of Donny and Marie, or Rene Simard, and not miss a beat.

And there is no doubt she would steal your heart with her angelic voice."

"Singing is my life, and I hope someday I can capture the world with my voice," says Crystal.

We loved having you Crystal you added to our country weekend perfectly. I hope to have you back on that stage as soon as possible. The crowd loved you and so did we.

-Leah, Rodgers Sarnia Bayfest

"Crystal's high-energy personality and fast-paced showmanship are infectious, to say the least."

- Larry Garcia,

Crystal Gage puts on a high energy, audience participating show that appeals to all ages and types of people which is guaranteed to leave everyone wanting more.

Through country music covers and original music from her albums, she shares her warm personality with every audience member and you can't help but take notice and enjoy every minute of her performance.

She draws off the spirit in the room and gets people clapping, laughing and dancing along to the beat, then soothes them with a song or two of hope and inspiration or a good ole' country tear-jerker.

Between songs she is sure to make you crack right up as she tells some jokes and little stories filled with humour with a delivery like no other.

Crystal brings some people from the audience right up on stage with her and dances in the seats with others. She will even at points share her microphone with those who get the urge to sing along and will teach simple dance moves to those inclined to share their talents. She is also sure to outline her show to fit the demographic of the audience and the type of venue as well.

When kids are present, Crystal's favourite thing to do is get them all up on stage and let them put on a little performance that she teaches right on the spot. Parents love this just as much as the kids do.

Crystal's show can be changed to fit absolutely any event with any audience and she's known for this across the province and even in some southern states. She's perfected her show over the years by playing several fairs, banquets, parties, theaters, children's events, seniors' homes, conventions and large concert venues.

You are promised nothing but fun when Crystal Gage is on stage, fun mixed with professional vocals and a deep desire to see the smile on everyone's face.
